KEY RISKS

Credit Risk: Risks associated with issuers of debt securities, even those with a very high rating, may not be able to make payments to investors, or the fear associated with this risk may result in a decrease in the value of their debt securities.

Emerging Market Risk: Risks associated with investing in emerging markets. Due to their political instability, the volatility of the exchange rate of their currencies, and the limited number of investment opportunities, the risk of these markets is greater than in countries considered as developed.

Interest Rate Risk: Risks that the value of fixed-income securities will vary inversely to interest rate fluctuations.

For full disclosures on all key risks, please refer to the Key Investor Information Document (KID).

Monthly Commentary

Global fixed income and credit markets ended the year on a negative tone. US bond yields increased in December in response to positive economic data and an inflation print that indicated a slight pickup in prices. Market implication of President elect Trump's likely economic policies was another factor which put pressure on US treasuries. Although the US Federal Reserve (FED) cut rates by 25bps in its December meeting, the accompanying statement was interpreted as hawkish by the markets which caused further weakness in US government bonds. In keeping with the trend, Middle East (ME) credit (sukuk and conventional) generated negative returns in December although on a relative basis, ME high yield (HY) outperformed comparable benchmarks due to attractive relative valuation and strong fundamentals of ME HY issuers. Oil prices rallied during December as OPEC+ alliance continued to throttle production in response to lacklustre global demand. The fund's portfolio duration remains stable at 4.28, with cash and cash equivalents and IILM issues accounting for 0.1 % of the NAV. The portfolio diversification stays at high levels (98 issuances and the top 10 positions accounting for 29.75% of the total NAV) with an average rating of BBB-. The Fund's local currency exposure (TRY) remains stable at 0.8% (notional) of NAV - which is below the self-imposed ceiling of 25%.
